

Privacy Policy & Terms and Conditions of Coffs Coast church of Christ (Coffs Harbour church of Christ)

Regarding third parties

We take your privacy very seriously and will not sell, rent or lease your information to third parties. We will only disclose your personal information to a third party, without notice, if required to do so by law or in the good faith that such action is necessary to:

- * conform to the edicts of the law
- * protect and defend the rights or property of the Coffs Coast church of Christ
- * act under critical circumstances to protect the personal safety of users of the Coffs Coast church of Christ, or the public.

Regarding use within the church

We collect and use your personal information to deliver the services you have requested, such as the solicitation for more information. We do not collect any personal information from you when you simply visit our website. We may send you further information on subjects you may find useful, but we will include specific instructions on how to cease future correspondence from us if you wish to do so. The Coffs Coast church of Christ church does not use or disclose sensitive personal information such as race, religion, or political affiliations to its members without your explicit consent.

Web security

Please note that sensitive information such as credit card details should not be disclosed via email or on this website. The Coffs Coast church cannot be held responsible for the security or privacy of personal information in transit over the internet.

However, you should also be aware that most web servers do collect some information about visitors, such as the browser and version you are using, your operating system, and your IP (internet address), which may identify your computer – but not the person using it.
